

Symington untutored monthly Life Drawing day

The untutored Life Drawing group meets once a month on a weekend day and runs 10 - 4.

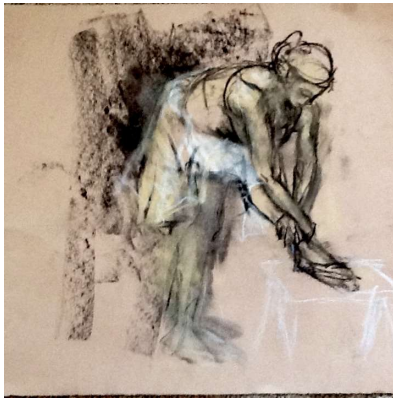

It's a friendly and supportive group with a mixture of amateur and professional artists from the Ayrshire and Glasgow area's all keen to learn from/ support one another and enjoy the drawing opportunity as well as the usual bonhomie within the group!

As the organiser and life model, I lead the group and in consensus with the attendee's set the poses accordingly. Normally shorter one's in the morning and longer poses in the afternoon, but I try to vary each month's group with at least one different component and some occasional clothed and much longer poses - maybe one or 2 poses only across the day for instance.

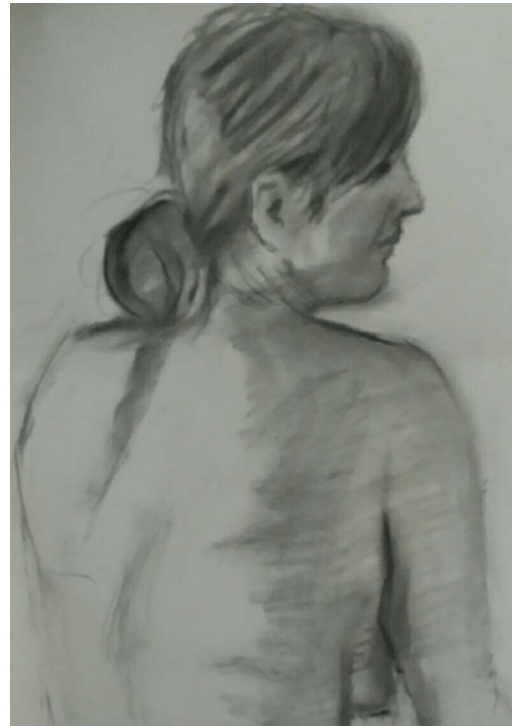

I also started running an additional tutored workshop with a professional artist leading the group and myself modelling earlier this year and hope to run more.

The group meets in the side room of the Community Hall, which provides a peaceful, large and well-lit space and has received very favourable feedback since we moved here earlier this year!
